GRIZZLED VETERANS.

The Great Parade of the Grand Army at Detroit.

NEARLY FIFTY THOUSAND MEN IN LINE

An Ex-President Marching in the Ranks
—Prominent Candidates for Commander-in-Chief — Washington for the Encampment, 1891.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—There were forty-seven divisions in the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, to-day, and estimates of men who galloped along the line and through the formation streets placed the number of men in line all the way 85,000. During the march many interesting incidents occurred.

In a halt that occurred the Iowa and Michigan division "marched in" The Indiana line was a stirring one, gay with banners bearing the insignia of the army corps. Colorado moved in open order, with a big drum corps, and was followed by Kansas, with the corps badge, banners and huge stalks of sunflowers. Delaware turned out a group of vets with whitewhats, and Minnesota came in with a big department staff.

Missouri's strong battalion was gay in its garrison caps, and marched with Kentucky and West Virginia formed a solid column, and were followed by South Dakota and the department of the state of Washington and territory of Alaska, Arkansas, New Mexico and Tennessee had post formations, and Mississippi turned out a platoon. Florida bore the palm leaves, and her two strong posts were cheered and applauded. Montana turned out a solid column, a brigadier and three with the wide-sleeved hats, gay with ribbons, showing up with sixty or seventy men who marched in open order. Idaho had a color guard only; but Georgia with her bugle band, had a goodly squad, who passed singing "Marching Through Georgia." Alabama was followed by North Dakota and Michigan's contingent, nearly 8,000 strong, brought up the rear.

For the first time in the history of the Army an ex-president of the United States marched with the posts of his native state. It was Rutherford B. Hayes that won this distinction.

He joined the Cleveland post just before it reached the reviewing stand, saluted as he passed the commander-in-chief, and marched several blocks with the Buckeye line, but he retraced his steps to take great applause.

For the first part there was an interruption at the national department headquarters, where ex-president Hayes, in behalf of a committee of the order, in a graceful and oratorical speech presented the retiring commander-in-chief with a diamond-studded Grand Army badge upon which a round $1,000 had been expended. Col. Veasey made a brief reply.

Tonight the comrades hooked out to the right to participate in a reception to Gen. Veasey.

Ex-Sgt. Alger was master of ceremonies. Major Phlegar, in a well-chosen address, welcomed the vets to the metropolis of the Wolverine state, and the commander-in-chief made a brief response.

Old soldiers breathing a spirit of good will to the veterans were made by ex-President Hayes, Secretary Proctor, Gen. Pugh, Gen. Butler, and the like.

Meanwhile a great crowd had gathered at 43rd Street in the west business district, and after the same speakers were hurried and the programme repeated.

At midnight the spectators are just as crowded as they were at midday, but the sleeping accommodations are ample, and nobody will be compelled to seek lodgment in the open air.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The navy department has authorized the sixteenth payment on cruises No. 12 (the New York), amounting to $80,000, and the eighth payment on cruises No. 12, amounting to $87,750. Both vessels are being built by the Cramps.

Simply Approved the List.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Secretary Fisher said yesterday that he had nothing to do with the list of names of sailors from the New York custom house. He had directed Collector Erhardt to reduce expenses $80,000, and the collector forwarded to him the names of a number of employees. He approved the list of names submitted. There was nothing to show that they were G. A. men, civilians, white or colored.

Conscience Money.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—A conscience contribution of four dollars from an unknown resident of Scottsdale, Pa., was received at the treasury department yesterday. The sender said he owed that amount on one package of oleomargarine on which he had paid out the tax.

Reduced by Payment of Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The treasury surplus has decreased from $55,783,715 on July 31, to $45,277,448, caused principally by $7,500,000 being paid out for pensions.

Detailed for Educational Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—First Lieut. Adelbert C. Crookshank, Fourteenth artillery, has been detailed as professor of military science and tactics at the Michigan Military Academy, Flint, Lake, Mich., relieved First Lieut. F. D. Lusk, Second Infantry. Second Lieut. J. S. Grisard, Thirteenth infantry, Prince George's county, Md.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 5, 1891.

SPRECKELS' SPREAD.

He Looks Hour With the Trust and Brings Sure to the Lowest Price on Record.

New York, Aug. 5.—A bitter fight was begun yesterday by the sugar trust against Claus Spreckels, who has been a thorn in the side of the sugar refiners on this coast for many years. About ten days ago the president of the sugar trust was called away from the city by the last illness of his father, F. C. Havemeyer.

On Aug. 4, the trust sent a telegram to Spreckels, telling him to pay him $100 per pound for granulated sugar, but Claus Spreckels, who had been keeping his rates up to those of the trust at once announced a reduction of 10c per pound. He cut seriously into the sugar trust, but no action to meet the cut was taken as it was believed that as soon as Spreckels' supply was placed he would retire from the market. He kept on filling orders, however, and practically supplied all demands.

London, Aug. 5.—The continued French and Russian love feasts, with an admixture of American and Greek, are having an effect at least appreciated in the tone of the press. Tory papers used to treat the Franco-Russian entente as a subject for ridicule. They said it was impossible that the czar should have any friendly relations with republican France, and that France was humiliating herself in vain for a glance of recognition from the Muscovite.

Upon the Kaiser's visit the Times, Standard and other Salsbury organs spoke of European peace as now assured by such a formidable combination that France was powerless to move. A tone of contempt was displayed, and the czar was told to make his best efforts to keep up his popularity.

In August, 1890, after the formation of the trust, sugar sold for 83c cents per pound. A curious feature of the fight is that the raw sugar market both parties are urgent buyers and the sugar trust yesterday bought raw sugar at 8.5c cents. This brings the profit of refining down to a very low point.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Money Supply Since the War. WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Statements have been prepared at the treasury department concerning the amount of money in circulation on the first of July of the years 1860, '65, '66, '69 and '91, from which it appears that the assertions so often repeated of late that there has been since the war a great reduction of the amount of money in circulation are entirely without foundation.

All the statements furnished are made upon precisely the same basis—the amount of each kind of money in the country is known, the amount is deducted, the amount in the treasury, and the remainder is given as the amount in circulation.

There is nothing omitted from the statement which should appear there except minor coins (nickels and pennies); and they are left out of all the reports because of the difficulty in estimating the amount of them in use.

What the people there was an inquiry as to the amount of money in circulation at the time of the rebellion, is certainly less than in the earlier years, their omission will not unfriendly criticized by those who contend that there is now a scarcity of money.

State now all the facts in a few words, the amount of money in circulation in 1860 was about $46,000,000, and the amount per capita was $13.85. In 1865 there was $72,000,000 in circulation, and the per capita amount was $20.82. Twenty years later the circulation was over $1,200,000,000, and the per capita amount was now $200,000,000, or $41.00 as the per capita allowance, which had the queen some time ago to ignore a graceful act of courtesy by Queen Victoria.

At the present time there is now an eager purpose to show honor to France, and the French fleet will receive a welcome that may make the kaiser jealous. Queen Victoria herself will probably do the diet the honor of a personal visit and try to get her to realize her responsibility.

It is to be hoped that the Franco-German alliance will not be the most powerful political combination in Europe.

From indifference and contempt there is now an eager purpose to show honor to France, and the French fleet will receive a welcome that may make the kaiser jealous. Queen Victoria herself will probably do the diet the honor of a personal visit and try to get her to realize her responsibility.

It is to be hoped that the Franco-German alliance will not be the most powerful political combination in Europe.

Somebody Must Answer for It.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The kaiser will call somebody to account on his return for the catastrophe to the German commission at Rethateau.

It is an accident approaching in costly disaster, the loss of life, the damage to the fleet and material interference with army arrangements in the event of a sudden war.

The building containing the stores appears to have lacked due protection from lightning. In the present condition of the German market, the oats, grain and provisions destroyed are much more serious loss than would be the case in some seasons.

The condition of affairs in Spain is very bad. The whole country has been made restless by the fighting in Barcelona, and in Madrid, where the police are in full force on the streets and the streets are filled with groups on the street corners and discussed the struggle and its objects. The sympathies of the people are evidently with the rebels.

—Wm. L. Buck, a well-known citizen of Delaware County, Pa., and cashier of the First national bank of Durbin, was killed near Collingdale, by being struck by a train while walking on the track.

—A collision occurred yesterday morning on the New Haven and New Haven between a freight and a passenger train. The passengers were thrown from their seats into a heap about the cars, but none were injured.

The State national bank of Denver, Col., has paid David Swickhein $1,000,000, the last payment on the Enterprise group of mines at Raton, which was received yesterday morning.

—W. C. Palmer, of Palmer's theater, intended to enjoy the play.

He was met in the lobby by a friend who with difficulty dissuaded her from her purpose of making a public exhibition of herself. After creating a scene she withdrew.

Annual Cruise of the New York Yacht Club Fleet.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 5.—The annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club began yesterday morning.

At 6 o'clock the preparation was finished at Huntington as the signal to get under way for New London.

The run was made with varying winds and the yachts came trilling along into this harbor the evening being far advanced when the last one arrived.

The Katina was the first boat to finish at 6:30 p.m. and won in her class.

The Frolic was winner in hers.

The other winners were the Fortune, Mayflower, Quicksilver, Hillside, Owenee and Iris.

It will now be in order for the Democratic press to call into a fury over the resignation of the Collector of the Port of New York and the appointment of his successor. It should charge that the office has been turned over to the machine politicians for partisan purposes. In the meantime the public will discover some Tammany Democrats who have been holding office under the Mugwump Collector, crawling from under the tent, at about the same point they crawled in at.

Died from Grief.

William Burdin, a Burlington brakeman, had his right leg bodily crushed at Denton, Nebraska, Monday, that amputation was found to be necessary.

During the operation his life passed away. A telegram sent to his wife at Hastings, announcing Burdin's injuries, was followed by another which proved too much and she died at early hour yesterday morning from the effects. Burdin was about 26 years old and his wife 20. They had been married a little over a year. They will be buried at Hastings in one grave.

He says: "During the season of 1882, my little girl, then 10 years of age, was ill with some common complaint, so common to children of that age. After being treated by a physician and getting no better, I took from my shelves a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. She failed to recover after the first dose, and in three days was entirely well."
